From the Desk of the Summer Camp Director

Believe it or not, in less than 10 months, we will all be back, together, at Camp again. Can't wait that long? Then October 5 is a must-save date for you, as it's the first Chingachgook Summer Reunion since Camp ended! It's on a Sunday, so there is no excuse about being busy with school. Bring your entire family and climb Buck Mountain with a large group of summer campers. Once at the top, we'll take a group photo (much like the one above of the entire sixth session at Camp) that I'll post on the blog for everyone to see.

So, to recap a little, there's a Camp reunion on October 5. We'll begin hiking at 1 p.m. and once we have finished, we'll all enjoy dinner in the dining hall. Bring friends, family, and anyone else you can think of to show off Camp and keep your summer memories fresh just a little longer. There's no charge for anyone for the hike or meal. Please call Camp to R.S.V.P. by October 1 or to ask any questions. I look forward to seeing as many of you there as possible.

Here are some photos from the summer for you to enjoy!
